

ACTION POINTS

- Have direct community canvassing of residents to find out what programs they want.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Start anti-violence and awareness education early, with a focus on elementary school kids.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Need transportation that meets needs of youth to participate in programming, and better coordination of school times and Muni.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Have programs that take a different approach than disciplinary action and nurture people's emotional development.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Need more coordination between CBOs, schools, courts, and other agencies for successful outcomes.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Currently funding is insufficient for full implementation of programming
- Vote for officials and initiatives that will prioritize youth funding.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Have a speaking circuit of juvenile advocates to speak at every school

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- SFUSD could invite librarians to come to schools to teach about available resources.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Put services in neutral areas so that they can be used by people from a variety of areas.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Expand call-in program to the community and schools beyond youth in custody.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Expand the CRN program, including the Tenderloin – be able to have data to show success to expand the program.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Need more gun buy-back programs – keep people from selling guns illegally or having them stolen.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

ACTION POINTS

- Need to have mentorships with the private sector in useful skills like science, technology, media and the arts.

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit

Materials and recommendations available on

sfpublicdefender.org

2008 Juvenile Justice Summit