I just stayed and tested them all because they said a lawyer was going to put a restraining order on us or something by the morning so it needed to be done. I have no idea, I just finished and sent the notifications. Thank you though!!

They have approved/denied. Approved/denied. Definitely let them know it's not doable tonight but we will develop a plan for completion tomorrow.

Yes, you can. Politely let them know this so not doable tonight.

Where am I supposed to find staff to come in help at 1600 to do this? Can I politely let them know this may not happen tonight?

I did all of it myself cause we have no staff and made AA stay over, I just let her go home because we thought we were done for the day. They have had months to approve this and now it's get it done tonight! I have people on 12's I can't exactly mandate them to stay over after a 12 because that is crazy. I still have 34 to chart on that I swabbed at 1330. I just barely finished packing them up.
